

PRIVACY POLICY

Last Updated: June 29, 2021

Welcome to the Privacy Policy for Empower Finance (“Empower”, “we”, “us”, or “our”). In this Privacy Policy, we describe what Personal Data (as defined below) we collect, how we use and share that information, and your choices concerning our information practices.

What this Privacy Policy Covers

This Privacy Policy applies to users of our website, www.empower.me (the “Site”, and such users, “Site Visitors”), our mobile application (the “App”), and our related technologies, products and services (collectively with the Site and the App, the “Services”). Our Services are designed to create the best place to manage and improve your financial life by enabling you to connect and view your various online or app-based financial and finance-related accounts in one place, enabling you to open and access bank accounts, and providing qualified users access to Cash Advances.

Customers that download the App, begin the registration process, or sign up for a checking account, savings account, loan, crypto wallet and other products and services provided through the Services by us or a third party (each, a “Customer”) should also review carefully the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act Privacy Notice below that applies to them. Certain sections of this Privacy Policy applicable to California residents may apply only to Site Visitors and not Customers.

This Privacy Policy is incorporated into and forms part of our Terms of Service. Before using the Services or submitting any Personal Data to us, please review this Privacy Policy carefully and contact us if you have any questions. By using the Services, you are agreeing to the practices described in this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to this Privacy Policy, please do not access the Site or otherwise use the Services.

What Information We Collect

We may collect information that alone or in combination with other information in our possession could be used to identify you (“Personal Data”) in the following circumstances:

Information You Provide. We collect Personal Data from you when you voluntarily provide this information to us, such as when you register for access to our Services, contact us with inquiries, link your accounts, respond to offers from us or third parties, obtain or use products or services from us or third parties, or when you authorize our Services to collect this information about you from your financial institution, credit bureaus or others. Personal Data that you voluntarily provide depends on your use of the Services but may include your name, address, email address, phone number, tax identification number (such as U.S. social security number) or other government-issued ID number, date of birth, annual income, and other information about your finances and employment.

Please note that if you are located outside of the United States, by providing this information to us, you acknowledge and agree that this Personal Data may be transferred from your current location to the offices and servers of Empower and the authorized third parties referred to in this Privacy Policy, located in the United States.

Information from Third Party Partners. When you choose to use the Services to link or view activity on financial or finance related accounts operated by a third party (e.g., your bank or credit card company), we collect Personal Data from that third party and others (each, a “Third Party Partner”) to enable us to provide the Services or certain features thereof. For example, Empower uses Plaid Technologies, Inc. (“Plaid”) to gather an end user’s data from financial institutions. By using our service, you grant Empower and Plaid the right, power, and authority to act on your behalf to access and transmit your personal and financial information from the relevant financial institution. You agree to your personal and financial information being transferred, stored, and processed by Plaid in accordance with the Plaid Privacy Policy.

Internet Activity Data. When you interact with our Services, we receive and store certain information about your visit, use, or interactions. Such information, which is collected passively using various technologies, cannot presently be used to specifically identify you. We may store this information itself or it may be included in databases owned and maintained by our agents or service providers. Our Services may use this information and pool it with other information to track, for example, the total number of visitors to our website, the number of visitors to each page of our website, and the domain names of our visitors' Internet service providers. In particular, the following information is created and automatically logged in our systems:

- Log Information: Information that your browser automatically sends whenever you visit the Site. Log Information includes your Internet Protocol ("IP") address, browser type and settings, the date and time of your request, and how you interacted with the Services.
- Cookies Information: Please see the "Cookies and Similar Technologies" section below to learn more about how we use cookies.
- Device Information: Includes name of the device, operating system, and browser you are using. Information collected may depend on the type of device you use and its settings.
- Usage Information: We collect information about how you use the Services, such as the types of content that you view or engage with, the features you use, the actions you take, and the time, frequency, and duration of your activities.
- Location Information: We may collect and use your location information (for example, by using your IP address to determine your approximate geographic location) through the Services in order to help us authenticate activity related to your account. We may also use your location information in an aggregate way as Aggregate Data (defined below). We do not share your location information with other users of our Services.

Cookies and Similar Technologies. In operating the Services, we may use "cookies" and other similar technologies. A cookie is a piece of information that the computer hosting our Services gives to your browser when you access our Services. Cookies help provide additional functionality to our Services and help us to analyze usage more accurately. For instance, our website may set a cookie on your browser that allows you to access our Services without needing to remember and then enter a password more than once during a visit to our website. On most web browsers, you will find a "help" section on the toolbar. Please refer to this section for information on how to receive notification when you are receiving a new cookie and how to turn cookies off. We recommend that you leave cookies turned on because they allow you to take advantage of additional features of our Services. Advertising networks may use cookies to collect Personal Data. Most advertising networks offer you a way to opt out of targeted advertising. If you would like to find out more information, please visit the Network Advertising Initiative's online resources and follow the opt-out instructions there.

- Email Open/Click Information: We use pixels in our email campaigns that allow us to collect your email and IP address as well as the date and time you open an email or click on any links in the email.
- Analytics: We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ("Google"). Google Analytics uses cookies to help us analyze how users use the Services and enhance your experience when you use the Services. For more information on how Google uses this information, click here.
- Third Party Tracking: We may allow third party service providers, including Facebook, to use cookies, pixels, or similar technologies to collect information about your browsing activities over time and across different websites following your use of our Services and use that information to send targeted advertisements. These third party service providers help us analyze how our users use our Services, and can enhance your experience when you use our Services. We currently do not respond to "Do Not Track" ("DNT") signals and operate as described in this Privacy Policy whether or not a DNT signal is received. If we do respond to DNT signals in the future, we will update this Privacy Policy to describe how we do so.

How We Use The Information We Collect

We will use the Personal Data you give us to provide our Services to you in a way that is consistent with this Privacy Policy. Please note that if you provide your Personal Data for one part of our Services, we may use it for another part of our Services. For example, if you contact us by email, we may use the Personal Data you have submitted to us to provide you with the answer to your question or to resolve your problem. Also, if you provide Personal Data in order to obtain access to our Services or to link your financial accounts, we will use your Personal Data to provide you with access to these Services and features, to monitor your use of these Services, and to communicate with you or provide you with push notifications through the Services if you have turned on that functionality in your device settings.

We may also use your Personal Data and other personally non-identifiable information collected through our Services to help us improve content and functionality; to better understand our Customers; to maintain and improve our Services; to develop new products and services; to prevent fraud, criminal activity, or misuses of our Services; to ensure the security of our IT systems, architecture, and networks; to comply with legal obligations and legal process; and to protect our rights, privacy, safety, or property, and/or that of our affiliates, you, or other third parties.

Additionally, in an ongoing effort to better understand and serve our Customers, we may conduct research on our Customer demographics, interests, and behavior based on Personal Data and other information provided to us. This research may be compiled and analyzed on an aggregate or other non-identifiable basis ("Aggregate Data"), and we may share this Aggregate Data with our contractors, agents and business partners. We may also disclose Aggregate Data in order to describe our Services to current and prospective business partners, and to other third parties for other lawful purposes. In addition, we may share Aggregate Data with third party providers to permit them to make offers that are more relevant to you. We may collect and share Aggregate Data through the Services, through cookies, and through other means described in this Privacy Policy.

We may use certain parts of your Personal Data to contact you in the future to tell you about services we believe will be of interest to you. If we do so, each marketing communication we send you will contain instructions permitting you to "opt-out" of receiving future marketing communications. In addition, if at any time you wish not to receive any future marketing communications or wish to have your name deleted from our mailing lists, please contact us as indicated below.

If we plan to use your Personal Data in any manner that is not consistent with this Privacy Policy, you will be informed prior to or at the time when your Personal Data is collected.

When We Share the Information We Collect

We may share your Personal Data in the following circumstances:

- At Your Request. We may share your Personal Data where you have consented or otherwise given us permission to share your data. For example, if you want us to retrieve your credit report on your behalf, we will need to share your Personal Data with third party credit bureaus for the purpose of retrieving your credit report. We will not share your name, address, email address, phone number, or tax identification number (such as U.S. social security number) with third party product providers for marketing purposes without your express consent. Note that when you decide to pursue an offer from a third party product provider, you may be asked to provide information directly to that provider, including your Personal Data. Using our Services does not require you to provide any information directly to such providers, unless you wish to.
- With Third Parties Needed to Provide Our Services. We may share your Personal Data with the financial institutions with whom you choose to link your account, Third Party Partners, like Plaid, and other service providers that we use in delivering the Services. Examples include providers that provide us with technology services such as hosting, identity verification, support, payment, and email service. We provide these providers with only the Personal Data they need to perform their specific function, or to evaluate new potential vendors, and take commercially reasonable steps to ensure our service providers adhere to the security standards we apply to your Personal Data.

- For Legal Reasons. We may share your information if required by applicable law or legal process, or if we believe it is in accordance with applicable law or legal process. This can include protecting the rights, property, and safety of Empower, our users, and the public, including, for example, in connection with court proceedings, or to detect or prevent criminal activity, fraud, material misrepresentation, or to establish our rights or defend against legal claims.
- As Part of a Corporate Change. As we develop our business, we might sell or buy businesses or assets. In the event of a corporate or asset sale, merger, reorganization, dissolution, or similar event, your Personal Data may be part of the transferred assets.

How Long We Retain Your Information

We keep Personal Data for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, while we have a business need to do so, or as required by law (e.g., for tax, legal, accounting, or other purposes), whichever is longer.

How to Update or Delete Your Account Information

You agree to promptly update your account information in the event of any change. If you need to update your Personal Data, please contact us at help@empower.me. We will take reasonable steps to update or correct your Personal Data in our possession that you have previously submitted through our Services. You can also update your own data in our mobile app using the edit feature.

You may also choose not to provide us with your personal information, but you may as a result not be able to use some of our Services. You may terminate your account with us at any time by submitting a request to help@empower.me. Please note that we may retain your Personal Data and other information beyond the end of your relationship with us in accordance with our internal record-keeping policies and with applicable law, including to comply with legal reporting obligations.

When You Provide to Us Unsolicited Information

This Privacy Policy does not apply to any unsolicited information you provide to us. This includes, but is not limited to, information posted to any public areas of our website, such as forums, any ideas for new products or modifications to existing products, and other unsolicited submissions. If you make an unsolicited submission, we will not treat this as confidential and we can reproduce, use, disclose, and distribute this information to others without limitation or attribution. For the safety and security of your information, please do not submit information to us other than when we specifically ask you for it.

When Our Services Are Unknowingly Accessed by Children

We do not knowingly collect Personal Data from children under the age of 13. If you are under the age of 13, please do not submit Personal Data to us. If you have reason to believe that a child under the age of 13 has provided Personal Data to us, please contact us and we will endeavor to delete that information from our databases, subject to applicable law.

When You Link or Are Referred to Other Websites or Services

This Privacy Policy applies only to our Services. Our Services may contain links or referrals to other websites or services not operated or controlled by us, including websites and services operated by the third party product providers who may make offers available to you through our Services. The policies and procedures we describe in this Privacy Policy do not apply to the websites or services of these third parties. The links from our Services do not imply that we endorse or have reviewed these third parties' websites or services or their respective privacy policies. We suggest contacting such third parties directly for information on their privacy policies.

When You Integrate Social Networking Services

One of the features of our Services is the ability to connect your Empower account to various social networking services like Facebook or Twitter. By directly integrating these social networking services, we aim to make your online experiences richer and more personalized. To take advantage of this feature, we will ask you to log into or grant us permission to connect via the relevant social networking services. When you add a social networking service account to our Services or log in to our Services using your social networking services account, we will collect relevant information necessary to enable our Services to access that social networking service and your data contained in such social networking services. As part of this integration, the social networking services will provide us with access to certain information that you have provided to the social networking services, and we will use, store, and disclose such information in accordance with this Privacy Policy. However, please remember that the manner in which social networking services use, store, and disclose your information is governed by the policies of such third parties, and we have no liability or responsibility for the privacy practices or other actions of any social networking services that may be enabled within our Services. You may also have the option of posting your account activities to social networking services when you access content through our Services (for example, you may post to Facebook that you performed an activity using our Services). You acknowledge that if you choose to use this feature, your friends, followers, and subscribers on any social networking services you have enabled will be able to view such activity.

Our Security Practices

We take reasonable steps to protect your Personal Data from loss, misuse, and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. These include policies designed to protect the confidentiality and security of your Personal Data such as industry-standard encryption and authentication measures. We also limit access to your Personal Data to employees and service providers that have a business reason to know such information. However, no Internet or email transmission is ever fully secure or error free.

Additional Information for California Residents

This section of the Privacy Policy applies only to Site Visitors – not Customers. This section is intended to inform Site Visitors that are California residents of (1) the Personal Data that we collect and how we disclose that information, and (2) the privacy rights California residents may have relating to their Personal Data and how those rights can be exercised.

Personal Data Collection and Disclosure. The following disclosures are intended to provide additional information about (1) categories of Personal Data we collect, and (2) how and to whom we disclose that Personal Data. Nothing in this section limits our ability to use or disclose information as described elsewhere in this Privacy Policy.

- Categories of Personal Data Collected: In the past 12 months, we have collected the following categories of Personal Data via the Site, as described in greater detail in the “What Information We Collect” section above:
 - Identification Information, such as your phone number.
 - Online Activity Information, such as the computer operating system type, IP address, browser type, browser language, the website you visited before browsing to the Services, pages you viewed, how long you spent on a page, access times and information about your use of and actions on the Site.
- Sources of Personal Data: We collect the above categories of Personal Data from you when you voluntarily provide this information to us.
- Purposes of Collection and Disclosure: We collect and disclose the above categories of Personal Data for the business and commercial purposes described in the “How We Use Your Information” and “When We Share the Information We Collect” sections above.
- Categories of Personal Data Disclosed for a Business Purpose: We disclose for a business purpose all of the above categories of Personal Data to service providers, the public, and as otherwise described in the “When We Share the Information We Collect” section above.

- Categories of Personal Data Sold: We do not make your Personal Data available for purchase or otherwise share your information in exchange for monetary compensation. We may, however, share certain categories of Personal Data with third parties in common business arrangements that may be considered a “sale” under the CCPA’s broad definition. For example, if you have visited our Site in the past 12 months, we may have shared your Personal Data, including Identification Information and Online Activity Information, with providers that we use to deliver targeted advertisements, including social media platforms and other websites. See below for information about how to opt out of the sharing of your Personal Data for these and other purposes.

California Privacy Rights. To the extent provided for by the CCPA and subject to applicable exceptions and exclusions, California residents have the following privacy rights in relation to the Personal Data we collect via the Site:

- The right to know what Personal Data we have collected and how we have used and disclosed that Personal Data.
- The right to request access to the specific pieces of Personal Data that we have collected about you.
- The right to know whether we have disclosed your Personal Data for business purposes, the categories of Personal Data so disclosed, and the categories of third parties to whom we have disclosed your Personal Data.
- The right to request deletion of your Personal Data.
- The right to opt out of the sale of your Personal Data.
- The right to be free from discrimination related to the exercise of these rights.

If you would like to exercise any or all of these rights, you may do so by filling out the form here, or by contacting us at the email address below. After we receive your request, we may request additional information from you to verify your identity. Your authorized agent may submit requests in the same manner, although we may require the agent to present signed written permission to act on your behalf, and you may also be required to independently verify your identity with us and confirm that you have provided the agent permission to submit the request.

Please contact us with questions or to request access to an alternative format of this Privacy Policy.

Our Terms of Service

Your access to and use of our Services is also subject to our Terms of Service which may be found at www.empower.me/terms.

Changes to Our Privacy Policy

Our business and Services may change from time to time. As a result, at times it may be necessary to make changes to this Privacy Policy. If we make changes, we will notify you by revising the “Last Updated” date at the top of this page. If we make material changes, we will do so in accordance with applicable legal requirements, and we will post a notice on our website and mobile applications alerting our users to the material changes prior to such changes becoming effective. Your continued use of our Services after any changes or revisions to this Privacy Policy will indicate your agreement with the terms of such revised Privacy Policy.
